

Homework for Tuesday night

- 1) Read: Vygotsky and the 3 bears. Write up a summary and how this article relates to struggling learners. Article found in back of folder.
- 2) Read text: all of Chapter 3.
- 3) Reflection: Think about a struggling learner you had last year. How would you work differently with this child today based on what you have learned? Be specific. This is not the same question as last night. Tonight you are concentrating on what you would do with this child.
- 4) Identify the stages of arithmetic learning for the scenarios provided. Justify you're the stages with examples of what the child said or did.
